What can governments do to respond to local and global energy and resource challenges?

Tonight's guests will respond with their insights on the initiatives that local, regional, state and federal governments are and will be taking to put Loudoun on a more secure and sustainable path for future generations.

At 6:00pm, come and learn about local companies and organizations promoting innovative solutions to Loudoun's energy and resource challenges. Refreshments provided by our local grocery stores. Join us at 7:00pm for engaging presentations from each of the guest speakers, followed by a moderated Q&A session.
